FEATURING:

Chief John Salka

Chief Rick Lasky

Chiefs Salka and Lasky have put together a dynamic multi-day program that addresses the many skills and abilities that company officers need to have to be effective in the firehouse and on the fireground. This program is designed for new company officers, current officers and future officers.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Many company officers are promoted with no formal training, resulting in more stressful and challenging situations for both the officer and the unit. The Company Officer Academy is the result of numerous requests by company officers across North America concerning company officer training and preparedness.

YOUR INSTRUCTORS:

Join Chiefs Lasky and Salka as they share decades of experience, including concepts and solutions that have served them well in handling the difficult and challenging situations that you are likely to face. The success of a company officer on the fireground is often determined by their success as a leader in the firehouse. This is where the rubber meets the road!
